To become a voting member an individual or an organization must:

- Attend three consecutive TPCH Council meetings;
- Attend two consecutive Standing Committee meetings; and
- Complete and submit a membership application to the Membership Committee.
- Voting privileges will commence at the beginning of the fourth Council meeting after application review by the Membership Committee.
- The Membership Committee will inform the Executive Committee when to place an individual or organization that is eligible for voting status on the agenda of the next General Council meeting.
- Each organization with voting member status will have only one vote. This vote may be transferred to any individual designated by the organization to be their representative at any given time. However, one individual cannot represent two organizations at the same time.
- Voting members who miss more than three consecutive general TPCH meetings, or have not actively participated on at least one standing committee will lose their voting privileges.
- Individuals or organizations wishing reinstatement as a voting member must follow the procedure for attaining voting membership. See the original procedure under Section IV, Voting Membership.
- In extenuating circumstances, the Council may elect to grant waivers to members with extended absences. Those requesting a waiver must submit a written request to the Membership Committee.
